WHOSE BUSINESS
"It's nobody's business" I hear you say
If you drink cocktails every day,
Whether you spend your energies free
In sport, drink or labor. Humanity
Has no hold on your strength or time
Just match that thought with another rhyme.
Why does the law forbid today
The use of common drinking cups, pray?
To lessen the spread of germ disease,
Public health with greater ease
Has a driver a right morally you think,
To indulge himself in "a little drink"
That has proven over and over again
"Makes highways a menace to other men."
As he can't so quickly stop or swerve
When he meets another around a curve.
Self control he can hardly feel;
Nor eyes nor touch can guide the wheel.
Is it anyone's business along the line
If highway traffic—your life, or mine—
Is rendered a hazard or safer made?
Who will answer nor feel afraid
Of whether there's freedom or license?
Do you think your acts are naught to me?

Mr & Mrs. W. Jackson Entertain At Farewell Tea

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jackson entertained a number of guests on Sunday afternoon of last week in honor of their son Ivan and his bride.

A pleasant social afternoon was spent after which a delicious lunch was enjoyed by all, with Miss Joyce Jackson, Mrs. Marvin Jackson and Mrs. J. Stranahan acting as servers and Mrs. Harry Hynes presiding over the tea and coffee service.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Jackson left on Wednesday for Toronto where Ivan has a position with the Maple Leaf Milling Co. They plan to reside in Toronto.

Wet Weather Still Delays Harvesting

There seems to be little change in the weather situation from last week as rain has fallen off and on for the past week. Cutting has not been general and the larger percentage of the crop is still standing in the field. Some harvesting was done prior to the rain and fear is felt for the condition of this grain. During the early part of this week the sun has shone brightly in the mornings only to be obscured by cloudiness during the afternoon. It is estimated that it will take a week of hot dry weather before harvesting operations will become general again.

Let's Monday afternoon quite a severe hail storm swept through the district immediately north of Wainwright. From phoning to different parts of the country it would appear that the hail storm started in the Falgout district, but reports indicate that it was light. The heaviest damage has been reported from the Sydenham district, with crop losses there running as high as 100% in most cases. From there the storm moved west and crop damage is reported as far east as the Gerald district.

This summer has been the latest on record and with the harvest season near at hand it is certainly causing a great deal of mischance among those engaged in tilling the land.

Japanese Placement Hostel At Moose Jaw, Closed

Hon. Humphrey Mitchell, Minister of Labour, announces the closing on August 13th of the Japanese placement hostel at Moose Jaw, Sask. The Department of Labour feels that the public might wish to know something of the background to this action.

During 1942, when the Department was carrying out the Government's policy of evacuating 21,000 people of Japanese origin from the Pacific coast province area due to the war emergency, certain individuals, mostly born in Japan, were interned either upon suspicion of subversive activities or because of refusal to co-operate in the evacuation. This group totaled nearly 500 and were interned at Angler, Northern Ontario.

From 1943 through 1946 the large majority of these were screened by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police and were released individually for placement by the Department in various types of essential employment, where they have worked quietly and industriously. They have nearly all become re-established with their families in new environments.

In 1946, another 120 to 200 internees decided to repatriate to their own free will to Japan, and were given the same free transportation and allowances to assist them on their way as were provided to other repatriating Japanese from Canada.

The residual group of approximately 100 ex-internees were reunited in the summer of 1946 with their families at the Moose Jaw hotel. They were the most-operative core of the former interned group who took the position they must be returned to Japan by force.

It was felt that by reuniting them with their families and mingling them with the other Japanese from British B.C. in the placement hotel, they would regain a sense of reality and decide to resume normal life.

During the last twelve months this has developed, and all but about 35 of the former internees have moved out to ordinary employment with the assistance of the Department.

This last small group with relatives under their influence, totalling 60, are all employable men who have previously refused numerous offers of suitable employment with accommodation on the prairies or in eastern Canada, as well as transportation and relocation allowances offered by the Department. They are unwilling to make any effort to support themselves.

Many Drownings Needless States Health League

Many deaths by drowning are needless, according to the Health League of Canada. It is the belief of the League that many drowning deaths could have been and can be prevented—first, by the running of an unnecessary race, and second, by the prompt application of first-aid and resuscitation methods when accidents do occur.

The Health League believes that many artificial respiration efforts are discontinued too soon. It is the belief of the League that many drown victims died because all necessary efforts were not made to revive them.

The League emphasizes that the possibilities of artificial respiration should be fully realized at all times, and in its statement says that there are well-authenticated reports of artificial respiration being successful after as many as five hours.

Artificial respiration must be started as soon as possible and should not be discontinued after a mere half-hour of effort. It should be continued until there are definite signs of rigor mortis—possibly up to six hours. It is also well to note that there have been cases of recovery after a person has been unconscious in the water up to half-an-hour.

Rescuers are advised that there is always a possibility that a spasm of the larynx occurred, and that the victim suffocated rather than drowned. Therefore, it is important to be sure that air is entering the lungs properly during application of artificial respiration.

Marlene Swanson Celebrates Birthday

An enjoyable party was held last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Hughes at which a number of her little friends gathered to honor Marlene on the occasion of her sixth birthday.

After a happy afternoon of games, Marlene served the little guests a very delicious lunch including the birthday cake with ten candles.

Mrs. M. Herbert Dies Monday

It is the death of Mrs. Martha Herbert, beloved wife of Mr. H. H. Herbert of the Health District, Mr. Herbert has been in failing health for some time and had been a patient of the local hospital for the past two months, where she died on the afternoon of August 26th.

Details are scarce at press time but the funeral will be held on Thursday, August 28th from St. Thomas Anglican Church, Wainwright, at 2:00 p.m.

Clear Lake Re-stocked With Fish

Filling a long want to the anglers of the district, the Wainwright Fish and Game Association last week saw their dream come true in that their efforts to have Clear Lake re-stocked with young fish was realized. The association has been requesting that this be done for the past few years owing to the depleted stock of lake fish. There were approximately 3000 lake fish which were transported from a lake in the north country. These fish were over a year old and were reported to be from four to six inches long.

Mr. H. A. Buckle, director of the local Fish and Game Association, when asked as to how long it will be before the lake is ready to catch, replied that it would take from two to four years for the fish to grow, depending on how much food there was for them in the lake.

This re-stocking of Clear Lake comes at a time when it will be welcomed by everyone. For the past few years fishing at our closest and most enjoyable summer spot has been rather meagre, as only after much patience was expended was a fish ever caught. In the next few years this should be changed considerably and the lucky angler should be able to catch a good meal with little trying.

Supplemental Exams Now Being Written

All the students who failed to make the grades required in the June High School examinations, and who are desirous of re-writing them are now hard at work as the Supplemental Departmental Examinations get under way Wednesday last. Mr. C. Cronin of the Wainwright School staff is the teacher in charge of supervision.

The supplemental examination centres are very few and far between and Wainwright centre is the only one west of Winnipeg to the border on the time and also from Haddow & Maughan Ltd. to be returned. Carried.

Proctor on the other line, This means that quite a few students are visiting here for this important event.

Double Ring Wedding Of Interest Here

Pastel bouquets of summer flowers bunched the altar and lined the aisle of the Ukrainian Greek Orthodox Church at Vagreville on Wednesday, August 26th at 3:00 p.m. for one of the season's prettiest weddings when Miss Nadine Murty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Murty of Vagreville, and Herbert Moran Snyder, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Snyder of Wainwright, were united in marriage at a double ring ceremony. The wedding music was supplied by a four voice choir and solos "Aldesu", "Ave Maria", and "The Lord's Prayer" were beautifully rendered by Mrs. Zaedy-bida, Rev. Chrusciwka performed the marriage rite.

Given in marriage by her father the bride was lovely in a white gown with long full skirt and train. The fitted bodice had a sheer net yoke joined by pearl centered Chantilly lace which formed the little capelet. Her matching full length millinery had tiny points at the wrists and were finished with the same lace effect. The finger tip veil was held by a headpiece of sweet heart roses and Stephanotis and she carried a cascade bouquet the same flowers.

Mrs. Gloria McInosh attended her sister as matron of honor, gowning in a floor length flower printed white nylon net over powder blue crepe and her headpiece was of pink carnations and white Stephanotis held in a tiny net band. She carried a nosegay of spring flowers. Miss Bess Snyder acted as bridesmaid and wore a floor length flower printed white nylon net over white crepe with a headpiece of pink carnations and white Stephanotis held in a tiny net band. She carried a nosegay of spring flowers.

Mr. Wallace Snyder supported his brother as best man. Mr. Roy Reynolds and Mr. Gregor McCuskey, who were marked by white bows, were the bridesmaids' flower boys. Mr. Purdy carried a deep purple crepe dress trimmed with white and black hat with two-tone purple flowers. Her corsage was of Tallman roses. Mrs. Snyder wore a dove grey frock.

F.E. McLeod Brings Honors to Town

Mr. F. E. McLeod of Wainwright was last week elected to the position of President of the Alberta Farmers' Association at their recent convention held in Calgary. This appointment carries on his position of former year when the president died while in office and he was then vice-president.

Approximately 150 delegates from all over Alberta gathered for this annual meeting, the most ever to attend an association convention. A heavy agenda was arranged with speakers from many different parts of the United States.

President McLeod gave the opening address and pointed out to the gathering that during the past few years the Alberta Farmers' Association have built some of the finest funeral homes in the West, and said that they could compare those to be found anywhere in Canada. He warned the listeners not to rest on their laurels, but to strive for ever better service to the public.

A luncheon followed in which Mayor J. C. Watson welcomed the convention to the city. He spoke highly of the association and in conclusion presented Mr. McLeod with a key to the city. This key would be approximately five inches long, gold in color, and was suitably inscribed as being presented by the mayor to Mr. McLeod. This key will be cherished by Mr. McLeod for many years to come, reminding him of the year that he spent as president of this association.

Outstanding Horse Show Scheduled For Fall And Winter Seasons

As the fall and winter horse show season draws near, owners and trainers of some of the outstanding equine campaigners on both sides of the Canadian-American border are readying their charges for the final events in the keen fight for international honors that has been carried on in the show ring of the continent during the past year. These dual insure not only the maximum of thrills for horse show enthusiasts, but a continuation of the two-way tourist trade that has gratified travel authorities in both countries.

In Canada, the held attraction is the initial post-war renewal of the famed Canadian National Exhibition Show at Toronto, from September 1st to 6th. One distinguished visitor at this event will be the President of the American Horse Show Association, Mr. Adrian Van Sinderen of New York, who will officiate at the judging of the harness horse division.

Another traditionally fine Canadian ring trial scheduled for September is the annual Welland, Ontario show, while October events are carded for Simcoe, Ontario and Sherbrooke, Quebec. November will feature the renewal of the great Ottawa Winter Horse Show at the nation's capital on November 11-14 and the brilliant closing attraction of the season, the Royal Winter Fair Horse Show at Toronto. This outstanding international exhibition, to be held November 18 to 26, brings together the acknowledged stars of the four-footed show world.

Among American exhibitors expected to participate in one or more of these shows are the Dodge-Johnson Stables of Rochester, N.Y., heavyweight champion Joe Louis of Detroit Michigan; Mr. Richard K. Mallon of Rolling Rock Farm, N.Y.; Mr. Russell Stewart of Albany, N.Y. and Mrs. Louella Long Coombs of Lexington, Va.

Canadian horse owners are preparing not only to defend their laurels at home, but to invade the larger shows south of the border. Mr. James Francovich has announced that he will ship his five-gaited stars, Grassview Senation and The Brave Captain to Louisville, Ky., in September and to the New York National Horse Show in November, where the mighty "Senation" will attempt to regain the World's Championship Five-gaited Stallion title he once held.

Better Equipment For Better Farming

Now that agricultural equipment is becoming more available, many Canadian farmers are planning to purchase electrical aids such as cream separators, refrigeration pumps, motors, milking machines, or to install lighting, heating and water systems. They know that improved equipment makes farming more pleasant and more profitable, too.

Don't let the lack of ready cash prevent you from getting your share of modern farm machinery. Discuss the necessary machinery with Mr. Smith, manager of the Maytag Co. You will find he has a first-hand knowledge of the farmer's problems, and is anxious to help you modernize your farm, and enjoy the comforts and profits that come from increased production.

A timely farm improvement loan from the B. of M. has helped many a farmer make his farm a better farm.

—ADVT.

Mr. Vernon Carby will go over an impressive assemblage of over a dozen highly-rated performers who have already won American championship this year. Included in the account that will attempt to make a record their American titles at various show including the National Horse Show at Madison Square Garden, New York, will be the famed jumpers, Prince Tex, Jarvis Bay and Atom.

MUST BE CHOSEN CAREFULLY

During the past few months much has been heard via the daily newspaper and the radio of the forthcoming plans and ideas for immigration into Canada of certain peoples from other parts of the world. Most people who have viewed the situation at all are neither in favor or in disfavor of the scheme. The latest word from the Alberta Government is that they are giving consideration to the scheme recently adopted by the Province of Ontario. While it might be favourable to go ahead with this plan a word of warning should be preached now so that it might be practised later.

If the newcomers are of a character and outlook compatible with our own they will be welcomed by all Dominion residents. If they are not, it certainly would be good practise to leave them to the country of their origin. If their views are different in any way from ours it would be only common sense to make them unwelcome and make their arrival here unpleasant and unprofitable. Before any scheme gets to this stage it would be advisable to have a certain screening test made on each individual. This would save further expense and trouble at some later date.

This point of view might be taken to be bigoted and prejudiced, but it none the less is a sensible attitude in that the newcomers are being brought into the country to further its development and progress. This cannot be achieved if the new arrivals are to be a source of unrest and agitation.

It is to be honestly hoped that those in charge of the project ensure passage to those who are capable and suitable for merging into the Canadian way of life as a whole. Canada needs more population, but what she does not need is just any one to swell that population. The immigrants should be chosen with a view in mind of making this a better place to live and none other.

ROAD OILING EFFECTIVE

Not that the need for dust combatance is with us at the present due to the heavy rains of the past two weeks, but there has at various times been this need with the following work in mind. An item clipped from the Fort Saskatchewan Record states that the Fort has tried and with great success, the oiling of their streets. The item claims that the dust menace has been eliminated and the town now has taken on a cleaner and brighter atmosphere. It would appear from the clipping that through co-operation of the garages in that vicinity, who donated their old used motor oil, it had been possible to oil the main streets and thus eliminate that choked-up feeling as the vehicles pass.

This is something which might be tried in this locality. The source of supply might be the same for there are many gallons of used auto oil which is discarded each month from the garages here. Falling enough supply, Wainwright is sitting on top of the oldest known oil supply in Alberta. Surely it might be given a try, and if found satisfactory plans and preparations could be made to start saving used oil during the winter insuring at least two months supply for next summer.

The question of storage might arise but this should be no trouble. If the Town authorities, after a suitable test, found that it would be satisfactory to oil the streets in Wainwright occasionally the used oil could be dumped into a dump for use later on. An open earth pit would serve satisfactorily, located where it would be convenient.

This would mean a low cost project having nothing to buy, except the labor for the actual oiling. The garage proprietors would certainly co-operate in this regard as the disposal question of used oil is a headache to them at present.

This is a suggestion which if looked into might rid us of at least three quarters of the dust we usually experience each summer.

SIGNS OF THE TIMES

Small, but very significant, notices have appeared this summer in many Alberta weeklies to the effect that their newspaper shop would be closed, usually for a period of about one week, to give members of the staff a little holiday. The practice was not restricted to small newspapers only—it included such large and well-known weeklies as the Red Deer Advocate and the Drumheller Mail.

It seems almost incredible that a newspaper, that keeps a finger on the pulse of daily events, should be forced to close its doors for several successive days, so that staff members may enjoy a respite from work. This method of giving holidays is expensive and wholly unsatisfactory, both from the publisher's and the customers' point of view. It shows rather startlingly the "shoe-string" margin on which a good many weeklies are apparently operating on a day to day basis. The shortage of trained printers has reached the point now where a newspaper cannot afford to lose the services of even one employee at a time, for holidays. The publisher, to give his staff a merited and much-needed rest, must choose the costly alternative of closing his plant.

The war has undoubtedly been the main sponge that has dried the well of potential printers and apprentices. The shortage of tradesman will gradually diminish with more apprentices, and the number of veterans presently in training at printing schools set up by the government.

In the meantime, the fact that some publishers have found it necessary to close shop for holidays, indicates to a degree the labor difficulties facing most weekly newspapers today. The vast majority of weeklies are doing good work under most trying conditions. The public at large wouldn't realize that fact until they did without their paper for a week.

THE NATION'S BUSINESS

by ottawa observer

The hot days in the nation's capital last week reduced political speculation and argument to a minimum. The shock of the sudden death of two notable figures Hon. Frank Bridges and Senator "Gerry" McInnes is keenly felt. Both were recognized as hard-working and exceptionally able, public men whose inspiration was their deep love for and loyalty to Canada.

Eyes on Britain

There is interest, and some outspoken disappointment at the new economic plans put into force by Britain's socialist government. No one denies that it will have a serious effect on both Canada's foreign trade and her monetary position with respect to other countries. Our department of Trade and Commerce has convinced us that 1/3 of our income comes from external trade and that the loss would be felt by all whether our income comes directly from external sources or indirectly. Under these conditions it is not difficult to understand the intense concern felt in all circles here about our external relations. Britain's statement at Geneva that she could not sign the multilateral tariff agreement, as now drafted, for at least another year is a blow to Canada's hopes and efforts for freer world trade.

How much is Socialism to blame

Would Britain's position have progressively worsened if its government had been less concerned about "socialism" is the question in many minds. The decision of the British government to postpone the "socialization" of the steel industry until the economic crisis is over would indicate that even the socialists believe that their policy has been detrimental to the reconstruction of the old land.

Our hope—the United Nations

This observer is convinced that Canada's move and more coming to the conclusion—perhaps reluctantly—that our greatest hope, if not our single hope, for happiness and prosperity comes only from a strengthening of the United Nations. It is becoming clear that a high level of multilateral trade will not come except through united action. Few have illusions about the difficulties and dangers in the way with Soviet Russia challenging every move, and with socialist "planning" on a national basis threatening every attempt at the freer trade which is necessary if the unfortunate millions of the world are to obtain food. Exaggerated "nationalism" is a luxury we cannot afford.

Mr. Howe in Europe

Many are watching the news of Rt. Hon. C. D. Howe's activities in Europe where he is representing the government and people of Canada and on business as acting minister of the department which handles immigration. Regardless of party Canadians have come to expect big things from Mr. Howe in whatever capacity he acts. No one has forgotten the vision, forthright action and judgment that he demonstrated in organizing Canada's industry for war purposes and his quick handling of reconstruction for peace.

A recent Gallup poll showed that 62% of our people believe that we need immigrants. Perhaps a still larger number favour bringing in displaced persons from Europe for humanitarian reasons. Mr. Howe will have strong support across Canada for his efforts to find suitable "prospective" Canadians.

One of the interesting aspects of the Gallup poll was the support for immigration according to political affiliation. Liberals showed 66% in favour of immigration, Progressive Conservatives showed 68%, Cooperative Commonwealth Federation showed 69% in favour. These figures include those in each party who specified immigrants "of the right type".

EDITOR'S NOTE—With regard to the Letter to the Editor from Mr. K. Tory, it is not customary to print letters having a length of more than 300 words, but Mr. Tory has brought to the fore some very good points, and to try and condense this letter to this length was impossible. Therefore, we have printed the full text which follows.

August 23, 1947

The Editor,

The Wainwright Star.

Hope with a donation towards the P.M.C. and some ideas that are prompted by publication of the notice of plebiscite on the matter of the town's share of the funds, site, etc. I am in the dark as to what is being planned in this project but it is rumored to me that the idea now is to build a skating rink running from 2nd to 3rd Avenue East of the Town Hall with the rest of the slough there developed as a swimming pool, etc. Hence the amount needed to level, landscape, erect and etc. If that be true then I object to the clause empowering the town council to select, acquire, a site etc.

For many years—starting about 1932) a strong agitation developed to build a covered rink, and immediately the matter of a site arose. It was suggested that it be put at the Fair Grounds to be used at fair time (we have no fair)—it was suggested it be put on first avenue opposite the freight shed—(so the C.N.R. would supply water free)—it was suggested it be placed next to the fire hall (so the town's fire system and heating system could be utilized and hence an economy move)—(The town refused to let the operator of the town rink corral use warm water on several winters because it made the Secretary's office cold.)

To move the project along somewhat, a group were successful in getting the Council to set aside a block of land on 4th Avenue—a site selected for numerous reasons.

(a) The old site was too low and spring run-off water flooded the ice area.

(b) The town's population is not south of the C.N.R. track so a site in the central north section is logical and practical, similar to the schools.

(c) The land was located in the general area of the curling rink where children and parents might go along together for their sports. (The present trend in larger towns is to centralise the sports facilities—as witness Drumheller.)

(d) There was plenty of room for parking of cars—as per Camrose.

(e) There was adequate room to develop a children's playground in connection.

(f) If removed the rink from an area of heavy traffic so that small children could attend safely.

Having secured the land, a group levelled an area 100 ft. x 200 ft. on high land as a proposed ice surface at a cost of about $75-$100. (not $100-$500) adjoining 4th Avenue where there is natural drainage for the rink, snow, ice, etc.

Since that time I am told a move has been made to establish a ball park, etc. west on 4th Avenue which would seem to tie in with the logical centralising plan as first proposed.

Secondly on the matter of finance we must remember that in the past it has always been considered orthodox town financing to make a skating rink pay the major portion of its own cost of operation from revenues. But the main object of such a place, and especially in the case of a Peace Memorial Centre is to bring enjoy-

Canada needs people Canada needs people with capital to establish new industries. It can use technicians and scientists. It requires farmers, lumbermen and miners. According to our most dependable economists, Canada could support from 18 to 30 million people. We need increased population to support the increased and improved roads, railroads, electricity services and other essential modern improvements that we must have.

ment to the south of the town and in a practical way keep alive the memory of those who do not play now.

To expend an unnecessary sum of money to create an inflated centre, and hence create a huge carrying charge and operating cost will tend to defeat the very objects aimed at. I have always believed in a gradual approach to the erection of such a place; as the interest and the financial resources of the community permitted. Right now Wainwright is faced with the prospect of building a larger hospital, building a modern public school, installing waterworks, erecting a skating rink, paving streets, etc. The town was not willing to spend $7000-$10,000, to build a rink when employment was scarce and prices low. My practical suggestion, to sum up, is for the town to utilise the site already prepared (at no cost) on 4th Avenue and erect a skating rink only, making provision for a suitable side entrance befitting a Memorial.—To build immediately for use this winter the rooms and fence needed (or walls if material is available) with the object of putting on the roof next year. Later to add any desired facilities such as pool, etc. Then to boulevard 4th Avenue West (a start was made this year) and lay out flower beds, etc. along the street as an evergreen memorial block. (Avenue Parade in Sydney, Australia, is a beautiful street along which to drive—and fittingly begins at a Memorial Arch.)

I urge the voting of the money so that a rink may be provided as quickly as possible to provide adequate play room for the youth in the town. But I think it an inopportune time to use material and money needlessly to build a private emporium in one end of town, which may be denied to the kid with a dime a week to spend, some day in the future.

If my information on the whole project is not correct I would appreciate some enlightenment before I am asked to vote on the expenditure of this money. My opinions are based on my association in covered rinks in most central and northern Alberta towns—and one years experience as house manager in the Ice Palace, a deluxe cabaret public rink in Australia (ice area 100 x 200 ft.—nightly attendance 5000)—and a brief period of play in ice rinks in U.K.

Objectively,

The Editor, The Wainwright Star, Wainwright, Alberta.

Dear Sir:

In a recent issue of the Wainwright Star there was an editorial regarding the pros and cons of the Wainwright Municipal Hospital Board, acquiring the hospital at the Wainwright Camp for its present needs instead of building the proposed addition to the hospital at this time.

The Board have inspected the Camp Hospital twice and have come to the conclusion that the operating costs would be too great. The building would require a great deal of alteration and redecorating and there would be no funds available for this purpose. Debentures could not be issued for a project of this kind.

The distance from town was another drawback, both for the staff and visitors. It was felt that some means of transportation would have to be made available which would be an added expense. Also a snow plow would have to be available to keep the roads open during the winter months.

The Board feel it is better to go ahead and build the addition rather

Britain Helps To Make Seas Safe Again

The vast mine-sweeping operation which is making the oceans safe again for world shipping is now nearing completion. The fleets of 13 nations are cooperating in this work of which the largest share has fallen to Britain's Royal Navy. It is the biggest job of mine clearance in history and aims at freeing all European waters for the unrestricted movement of shipping by next year. Today—after two years of patient labour always under the threat of sudden danger—140,000 square miles are now entirely clear of mines.

Silkworms May Provide Material For Royal Wedding Gown

It is possible that the material for Princess Elizabeth's wedding gown will be made by British silkworms. At Lullingstone Castle, in Kent, there is a colony of 4,000,000 who have already provided silks for a previous State occasion. They made the fabric for the robes worn by the Queen and two Princesses at the Coronation, each cocoon producing two miles of thread. Enough raw silk is already set aside for Princess Elizabeth's dress.

FOOT FITNESS

Excessive perspiration in the feet is often due to the use of shoes which do not allow air to circulate around the feet. Health authorities agree that perspiring feet are sometimes an individual characteristic about which little can be done, but they insist that most sufferers have an easy remedy.

Frequent bathing of the feet will counteract this unhealthy and uncomfortable condition. A good foot powder will also help. Those using public bathrooms and showers are advised to take special care, since this is where many foot troubles originate through the picking up of infection.

Deisel Fuel Oil In Short Supply In Canada

Officials of Canadian oil companies and travel agencies have announced that Deisel fuel oil for pleasure yachts is temporarily in short supply in the Dominion. For this reason, it is stated, American owners of pleasure craft would be wise to check the possibilities of obtaining fuel along their proposed route in Canada before venturing too far from their United States points of supply.

This shortage exists at many points on the Great Lakes and St. Lawrence River and has been brought about by the tremendous increase in consumption of fuel oils and the absence of sufficient storage and transportation facilities to handle the demand.

Canadian authorities do not wish to discourage the movement of pleasure boats to the waterways of the Dominion, but they have no desire to see yachting enthusiasts stranded in their country for lack of advance warning that difficulties may be encountered in obtaining an adequate store of fuel. At the present time, suppliers of Deisel fuel in Canada are unable to make deliveries to vessels that are not already contracted with them.

HEALTH IN CANS

It is important to include plenty of vegetables and fruit in one's diet all year round, so nutrition experts at Ottawa issue some suggestions to householders planning to put up "health in cans."

Vegetables, they tell us, should be canned when they are young and tender, and the time to can fruit is when it is well-formed and mature. If it is under-ripe it may have poor flavor and texture, and if over-ripe will be soft and unattractive.

HEALTHY HOUSING

The importance of proper spacing in living and sleeping quarters is stressed in a message from Ottawa. This is particularly appropriate at a time when there is undue congestion in living places, and when many educational institutions are crowded.

In boarding school dormitories as well as in rooms and apartments which have to be "shared," the medical people urge attention to the provision of adequate space, so that sleepers will have sufficient ventilation. The more space which can be provided, the less danger there will be of spread of infection.

Facts About Paint

The use of fluorescent paint to mark laundry is becoming increasingly common in Britain, reports Canadian Paint and Varnish Magazine.

Modern British laundries are eliminating the older systems of marking by threads or indelible pencil and are using invisible fluorescent paint which shines under ultra-violet light. When garments have been washed and ironed, they are passed under an ultra-violet lamp which causes the fluorescent pigment to glow and enables the sorters to do their work.

Thirty thousand gallons of paint are going into a four year job of protecting the famous George Washington Bridge against rust and corrosion—but the painting is no work for the timid.

Sixty painters were chosen from a large number of applicants, most of whom decided they weren't interested after attempting to paint mile-long cables 600 feet above the Hudson River.

Protective paint coatings for factories, offices, homes and building and equipment of all kinds saves residents of Canada and the United States upwards of $5,000,000,000 a year, a U.S. scientist estimates. Dr. Henry A. Gardner figures that is what rust, rust and corrosion would cost us in deteriorating assets if it weren't for the protection given by paint products.

With the current building boom and increased industrial output of all kinds, it is quite probable that this figure will have to be revised sharply upwards in the very near future. The manufacture of varnish in North America appears to go back to 1820 when Franklin Houghton and David McChare started producing the tough gleaming fluid at Cambridge, Mass. For many years after those formulae for the making of varnish from fossilized resins were carefully guarded secrets.

Eventually synthetic resins made their appearance and the quantity and adaptability of varnish became tremendously increased. In practically all cases today, modern varnish from synthetic resins are vastly superior to the product obtained from the natural resin.

Canadian railways use about 700,000 gallons of paint products each year to protect their property and rolling stock against all types of weather conditions.

For the statistical mind, that's enough paint to cover both sides of a solid 10-foot fence stretching from coast to coast. The railways, however are not particularly interested in either the construction or painting of such a fence and put the 700,000 gallons of protective coating to much better use.

IT LOOKED for a while as if a temporary financial problem in the family might keep Mary from finishing "High". If she had to quit school to help the family income that would have meant good-bye to her hopes of becoming a nurse.

But here she is, starting her final year. Did her Dad suddenly come into some money?

No... and yes. He consulted his bank manager, who told him how the bank, through personal loans, often helped people to meet just such situations. Arrangements were made, and now Mary will take up nursing after all.

In 1946 Canada's banks made half a million personal loans to Canadian men and women.

WATCH THE YOUNG TURKEYS

Summer and early fall often prove to be a time of unnecessary losses with our young turkeys, states C. W. Treves, Poultry Commissioner. As a general rule they are hatched later than the chickens and as a result the pasture is usually not at its best when the poulters are placed out. There is also a greater tendency to feel that turkeys are good rustlers and therefore do not need the feed and attention that the growing chickens require. Turkeys rustle because they have to. If an ample supply of feed and water is available they stay close to their quarters. Because of the lack of attention to many flocks of young turkeys, we have many cases of Nutritional Roup or vitamin A deficiency reported during the summer and early fall.

Feed the growing turkeys just as carefully as you do the young chickens and see that they have their share of the good pasture available, and there will be little or no trouble with them.

Young turkeys should be watched carefully for tape worms during the summer and fall. Fly time is tape worm time for young stock, especially turkeys. Practice strict sanitation at all times. Should tape worms appear, they are easily controlled by one of the reliable pills or powders available on the market. Leaflet No. 30, "Internal Parasites of Poultry", outlines the treatment for these and other internal parasites. A copy of this leaflet may be obtained from your District Agriculturist or from the Department of Agriculture, Edmonton.

LEAFY SPURGE, ONE OF THE FIVE BAD WEEDS

Leafy Spurge, one of the most serious noxious weeds, has been reported in the central and southern parts of this province for some time. Reports from Field Supervisors indicate that this weed is also found in the northern part of the province, states W. Lobay, Supervisor of Agricultural Service Branches. All farmers are urged to be on the lookout for this plant and if found to report it to the Field Supervisor or District Agriculturist immediately.

Leafy Spurge usually appears in clumps. It is a perennial, reproducing by rhizomes, roots and seed. Numerous stems grow each, spring from the crown of the old root and branch out near the top of the plant in a cluster of flowering parts. The plant grows about 2 to 3 feet high. The stems exude a milky sap when broken. It bears a resemblance to flax in the early stages, the leaves being smooth, narrow and without stems. Two distinguishing features of Leafy Spurge which aid in its identification are the bright green colour of the plant and the pale yellow-green flowers.

This perennial weed is extremely difficult to eradicate, states W. Lobay because of the creeping, wide-spreading roots which are quite woody and tough. At least two years of persistent cultivation will be necessary. Because growth commences early in the spring, another crop is generally not effective in obtaining control. Preliminary work with 2, 4-D by the Field Crops Branch appears to give promising results in control of Leafy Spurge. Rates of one to one-and-a-half pounds of 2, 4-D seed per acre has affected the plants to the extent of twisting the roots and stems and halting seed production. In five weeks time the stems and the roots, to a depth of about 4 to 6 inches, appeared to be dried up. Follow up applications with 2, 4-D might be necessary next spring for any new growth which may appear.

LATE SUMMER BEST TIME TO SEED LAWNS

The best time of the year for seeding lawns is during the latter half of August if the soil is in good condition and free from weeds at that time. By then there will have been ample opportunity for destroying all seedling weed plants. Late summer seeding usually receives ample moisture and cool nights to favour germination and the rapid development of a dense turf. Such a new lawn may become well established before another crop of weeds such as dandelions occur to compete with the growth of new grass.

A good lawn seed mixture is one-half pound Red Top, one-half pound Kentucky Blue Grass and three pounds Creeping Red Fescue seed per 1,000 square feet, for a small lawn. For larger areas less seed may be used to save expense.

Once a lawn has become established it should be given a certain amount of care to maintain it in good condition. Dandelions and other lawn weeds can readily be kept under control with a selective herbicide with little injury to the grass. To improve the vigour, density and fineness of the turf, old well-rotted manure applied each fall at freeze-up will help a great deal. An occasional top dressing from time to time, or artificial fertilizer will also prove beneficial, but it must be distributed evenly when the grass is dry to avoid burn-

THE WORLD OF WHEAT SOIL EROSION

The Dominion Experimental Station at Swift Current, in addition to its usual work, has made also during the past twenty years or so, some remarkable investigations into the use of moisture by the wheat plant. First under the direction of the late Sydney Barnes and now under the direction of the scientist Dr. J. L. Doughty some quite unexpected and unlooked for results have been found. One of these announced by Dr. Doughty recently at Lethbridge at the meeting of the Agricultural Institute, and which surprised most people, was to the effect that the present system of farming on these prairies is NOT causing, as some people think, a rapid deterioration of the soil. In other words, it would appear that if water erosion and wind erosion can be controlled, that we can go on growing wheat and grains on these prairies for long, long periods of time without suffering from decline in yield per acre. This is a comforting thing to know, because so many people, particularly city people, think that the so-called prairie "wheat-miners" are rapidly exhausting the fertility of the soil and that in a few years these prairies will not be able to grow any more grain. So the so-called "wheat-miners", it appears, can be absolved from blame.

BULLISH AND BEARISH

ing of the grass. Mixing the fertilizer with screened loam will facilitate even distribution.

Russia has promised to barter to Czechoslovakia under a new trade treaty some 4,000,000 bushels of wheat. The first shipments of wheat, which arrived in Czechoslovakia recently, were reported to contain grain from the Hungarian harvest.

Belgium's 1946-47 winter wheat acreage is now officially estimated at 136,000 acres, and spring wheat at 55,000 acres compared with last year's acreage of 318,700 acres of winter wheat, and 55,000 acres of spring wheat. The winter wheat harvest in Central China was average, but low yields are indicated in Northern China. The overall food outlook for South and Central China is improved over last year with famine neither as widely spread nor as acute.

SUMMER SUPPERS, QUICK AND EASY

The house-maker who has spent the afternoon canning tomatoes or shelling pickles, as the summer heat lingers on, often wishes there were no hungry people coming home for supper.

The situation is not improved by the extra guests who drop in half an hour before meal time.

The homemaker may sit down to a satisfying meal that attracts the eye and tastes the taste and at the same time be as cool as the proverbial cucumber herself, if she does a little planning and preparation in the morning.

The Home Economist of the Consumer Section, Dominion Department of Agriculture says that there are many ways to arrange this. A boiled ham or beef loaf, stored all ready to serve in the ice box or cool cellar, and a large jar of salad dressing are first aids in any meal emergency, for with greens from the garden for salad and fruit for dessert the meal is on the table.

A hot dish stimulates the appetite and adds variety. This may be quickly served if some of the preparation is done ahead of time. Hard cooked eggs may be halved or sliced in a curry sauce or they may become a 'le-kin' in a plain cream sauce with bits of onion and sweet red peppers. Quartered tomatoes laid on hot buttered toast and covered with a hot cheese sauce makes a new kind of rabbit.

Here are two good supper dishes one hot and one cold.

The Department has therefore in the interests of economy closed the messing facilities at the Moose Jaw hotel. This group of 60 will be allowed to remain for the time being in the living quarters at the hotel but will have to obtain and cook their own food. The Departmental placement officers will, however, continue to provide assistance to those individuals or families who change their minds and accept employment offers or who decide to go back to Japan on the next voluntary repatriation ship.
